Frederick Pichon, "Constructivism."

Frederick Pichon's paintings reflect his personal interests in design, architecture, science and history. As a skilled draftsman, he loves precise drawing, but tries to be open to other stylistic expressions, so his work straddles abstraction and representation, and incorporate materials, collages, computer images and more. His images express a position on man in the universe, both humanistic and technical, to reflect on our condition. Pichon's work will be on exhibit in UCAR Gallery II of the National Center for Atmospheric Research (NCAR) through June 29.
